TRACTION SCHEDULE CUT TO FOUR CARS, EACH DIRECTION

Indianapolis And Cincinnati Traction Company Annuls Regular Service For Lack of Fuel

2 CARS MORNING AND NIGHT

Power Services For Towns Cut Off Between 10 A. M. And 5:30 P. M. When no Cars Operate

TAKES EFFECT IMMEDIATELY

Condensed Schedules Will Increase Fuel Supply One Half—14 Days Coal on Hand Now

Drastic action, curtailing light and power and transportation service, was put into effect today by the officials of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company, because of the shortage of coal at the power plant in this city.

The decision to condense the schedule of cars was reached at Indianapolis Monday afternoon when the officials of the line conferred, and decided to annul all cars on the present schedule and revise a new running time to attempt to keep up a schedule as long as the coal supply lasts.

Under the revised schedule only four cars are operated in each direction on both divisions. Two of these cars will operate in the morning and two in the evening. The schedules became effective at once.

The cars going to Indianapolis will leave Rushville at 6:08 and 9:08 o'clock in the morning and 6:08 and 8:38 o'clock at night. The cars from Indianapolis and for Connersville will arrive here at 7:30 and 9:39 in the morning, and 7:00 and 9:39 at night.

The cars will leave Indianapolis for Rushville and Connersville at six and eight in the morning and 5:30 and eight o'clock at night. The cars on the other division also will leave Indianapolis on the same hours.

This schedule was arranged so that the power could be shut off during the time between the morning and afternoon trains and only one half of the coal will be consumed by following the schedule adopted.

The order on power states that all power will be turned off on the lines at 10 o'clock in the morning and will not be turned on again until 5:50 at night, and turned off again at 10 o'clock.

Coal Prices Advanced $3.00 A Ton at the Mines Today

The excessive demands for a price of coal at the mines was disclosed today by A. T. Mahan, superintendent of the city water and light plant, who received prices over the telephone this morning from the mines. Grade four, mine run, quoted at $9.25 a ton; West Virginia at $9.75; Pocahontas at $10.50. These prices, with the transportation added, would make the costs of coal beyond reason.

Mr. Mahan stated that the price of coal today was $3 a ton higher than the quotations he received yesterday morning. The prices quoted him today was for five car lots.

Fifty eight days ago, he stated, that he bought Pocahontas at the mine for 90 cents a ton.

The city bins are well filled with coal, and no steps will be taken until it is necessary for the city to order restrictions on power users.

HARVEY ALLEN IS GIVEN PROMOTION

Sen. Watson Informs Him Today of His Appointment to be a Post Office Inspector

IS TRAVELLING POSITION

Will Leave Local Place After 23 Years of Service—Waited 14 Years For His New Job

Harvey D. Allen, 395 East Seventh Street, a post office employee in this city for the past 23 years, today received word of his appointment as a post office inspector for the government, which is quite an advancement in his position, and for which between 60 and 70 Indiana mail clerks were attempting to obtain.

The word which Mr. Allen received this morning was in the form of a telegram from Senator James E. Watson, which read, "You have been appointed post office inspector."

The appointment comes to Mr. Allen after 14 years of waiting for the new job. It was 14 years ago last April when he took the examination for the post office inspector position, and became eligible for the appointment after passing the test.

He has applied almost every year to get into this branch of the service, and when he appealed to Senator Watson, his request was taken up with the Postmaster General, who will also officially notify Mr. Allen.

This year the post office department stated that 50 inspectors would be appointed during the year, and about two weeks ago 33 of these places were filled. Between 60 and 70 Indiana applicants were in the list.

The advancement means that Mr. Allen will leave the local postoffice, after having been in the service here for 23 years, employed for the most part as a mailing clerk.

He spent several months in the United States postal department in France during the war, and this service also aided him in getting the new appointment.

Mr. Allen is the oldest employee at the office, and Clarence Cross, another mailing clerk, ranks next in line, having been employed here as long as Mr. Allen, excepting three months.

The duties of a post office inspector is to travel over certain areas and inspect offices, mailing service, and make investigations for the postal department. It will not be known for a few days what territory he will be assigned, nor when the appointment becomes effective.

SURVEY SHOWS MANY UTILITIES IN NEED

Public Service Commission Sent Questionnaires Asking For Condition of Fuel Bins

BIG ONES ARE HARD HIT

Indianapolis, Ind., July 25—Widespread suspension of light, heat, water, electric transportation and other utilities in Indiana may be forced within two weeks by a fuel shortage, the public service commission announced today.

Coal supplies of many utilities are almost exhausted, according to a survey conducted by the commission in questionnaires sent throughout the state.

Replies from one-third show: 10 per cent have supplies sufficient to carry them for thirty days or more; 50 per cent have supplies for several months; forty per cent can continue operation for only a few days or two weeks unless immediate relief is supplied.

The larger utilities are in worse condition than the smaller ones. They consume much more coal and were not able to store such a large reserve. It was also indicated that water companies are suffering more than any other class.

As the announcement was made public Governor McCray was meeting the coal committee of Indiana united mine workers and prepared to meet operators of the state this afternoon to find a solution of the problem. Both miners and the governor refused to talk about the meeting when it ended.

CABINET SESSIONS DISCUSS STRIKES

President Harding and Cabinet Give Entire Day to Matters Pertaining to Strikes

FIRST STEPS ARE TAKEN

Interstate Commerce Commission Exercises Power Equaling Those in Force During the War

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 25—With industry showing unmistakable signs of strangulation in the grip of the coal and railroad strikes, President Harding and his cabinet gave over their entire session today to a discussion of whether the time has arrived for drastic federal action.

The coal strike, considered by the administration as the more serious, is now in its 116th day. The rail strike is in its 25th day.

Washington, July 25—A national emergency exists because of the rail and coal strike, the interstate commerce commission declared today.

The commission took this extraordinary action in accordance with the provisions of the Esch-Cummins law and vested itself with power equaling those in force during war time to prevent profiteering to control the distribution of coal.

The commission ordered that each railroad should give preference and priority to each of the following commodities:

Food, food for live stock, perishable products, coal, coke and fuel.

The commission also ordered that priority be given interchange and return of empty cars intended for transportation of these designated necessary commodities.

Coal cars were also given priority by the commission's order and it was directed that coal mines be furnished with open top cars suitable for transportation of coal.

The commission also ordered an embargo of all coal consignments in open top cars that can not be unloaded within twenty-four hours after placement, to facilitate the movement of fuel.

The commission directed that no coal cars should be, used by any road for any other purpose than loading and transportation of fuel so long as there is any demand for them.

Chicago, July 25—Railroad and union chiefs today waited for the next move toward settlement of the rail strike.

Although the public's eyes were turned on Washington as the place from which the next step toward peace is likely to come, indications pointed to the resumption of secret negotiations here.

Despite Chairman Ben W. Hooper's assertion that the board "contemplated no further action," it was reported that Hooper and Bert M. Jewell, president of the striking shopmen, were again holding conferences. Both sides refused to deny or affirm this report.

NATION FEELING PINCH OF STRIKE

Country's Transportation Systems Are Badly Crippled Combined With Coal Strike Situation

MANY TRAINS ANNULLED

Passenger Service Suffers And Freight Trains Are Gradually Reported as Being Dropped

By JAMES T. KOLBERT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 25—The shopmen's walkout, striking at the heart of the nation's railroads by interfering with the maintenance of equipment, is fast crippling the country's transportation systems, reports to the federal government today show. With many trains already annulled because of the coal shortage, advises today showed that:

Many passenger trains throughout the country are unable to keep up their schedules, apparently because of the deterioration of equipment. Freight is being delayed from one to five days.

Congestion is prevalent in mining centers that are now producing coal and a shortage of coal cars exists at many mines.

Many trucks are being pressed into service for short hauls, due to the delays.

No definite report on the exact condition of railroad equipment today as compared with July 1, the date the strike began, is obtainable but government officials estimate the general condition is about 20 or 25 percent below that of twenty-four days ago. The situation is growing more serious daily.

Locomotives are the first to feel the lack of the constant care of the shopmen, and the result has been the delayed trains.

The most serious aspect of the situation is the announcement of the big four brotherhoods that when the condition of the locomotives and cars deteriorates to the point where they consider it dangerous to operate them, trains will not be moved.

As an example of the critical situation daily growing more serious reports at the union station here show that fully 75 percent of the passenger trains arrived late during the last 24 hours.

Many late trains are reported at the high rail centers of New York and Chicago.

Memorial

In memory of Alice Hazzard, daughter of Dr. Hazzard, who was born in St. Marys, Ohio, Nov. 12, 1839, died July 13, 1922, at her home in Rushville, Ind., aged 82 years - 8 months.

She was left motherless at the age of five years, with four older brothers and sisters all of which are dead. Two half sisters, Mrs. Letia Colvin of Anderson, Mrs. Fannie Hunter of Elwood Indiana and Sam of Wichita Kansas are living. When but a child her father came to Indiana locating at Fairview, Fayette Co., where for years he engaged in the practice of medicine, loved by all the community. Being a close companion of her father she gained much knowledge of nursing the sick which was used in aiding the neighbors near where she lived.

Her education was received at the Fairview Academy.

In 1869 she was married to John Reese of near Kings Station, she taking the place of mother to eight children, two, Theodore and James are living.

To this union four sons were born, Bert, Oscar, and Justus of Union Township and Eram who died in infancy. She was always ready and willing to help in every way she could. She was mother to several step grand children who were left motherless and homeless.

In March 1904 they moved to Rushville, to live a retired life. The husband was called to rest in September of the same year. She was left alone for a time until she married Louis J. Newhouse. They enjoyed life together for a few years when he was called, leaving her alone again. She spent her later days doing her home duties, caring for her flowers, being a lover of them. Nothing pleased her better than for someone to bring her flowers. It often bringing tears to her eyes, she being touched by their kindness.

She was a member of the Ben Davis Christian Church, but was not content with being a member, but a hard worker for it as long as she lived in the vicinity. After moving to Rushville she moved her membership there and was a regular attendant as long as strength permitted.

Always of rugged constitution not knowing what it was to be sick, until about a year and a half before her death, when she had a stroke of paralysis. From that time her strength gradually left her and often she spoke of being ready and waiting for the summons.

BUSINESS BOOM MAY DROP WITH STRIKE

High Levels in Stock Markets And General Increase in Business May be Retarded by Strike

SOME BUSINESSSES TO CLOSE.

(By United Press)

New York, July 25—The business boom, signalled by big levels in the stock market and a general pick up of industry throughout the country "will be throttled in its erade unless the rail strike is settled at once," the Labor Bureau, Inc., economic advisers to the shopmen, declared today.

Emergency pooling or rolling stock under federal control, already has been rendered practically inevitable, the bureau announced. Priority control over shipments as exercised in war time must be resurrected, strike leaders assert.

Non-essential industries must shut down and a throttle of general business revival is the result. Train service is delayed. Trains from St. Louis are arriving ten hours late. Rail executives in a statement, declared the delay "normal". The move to form new company unions, given considerable impetus Saturday, had not spread, both roads and unions agreed. There were few disorders throughout the east, but guards on many roads were increased.

BIG WHEAT HARVEST IS IN NEED OF MEN

North Dakota is Confronted With Shortage of Labor on Eve of Immense Wheat Harvest

RAILROADS OFFER RATES

Fargo, N. D., July 25—With the greatest wheat crop since 1916 nearing the harvest, North Dakota is confronted with a serious labor shortage.

The low fare rate was secured by Governor R. A. Nestos in conference with railroad officials in St. Paul and Minneapolis recently.

Licensed Street Musician

To Give Concert in Chicago

Chicago, July 24—Ward Baker, Chicago's only licensed street musician, will give a first public indoor recital this year.

Baker, a violinist, was arrested twenty years ago playing on the street. When taken before the chief, he asked for a license.

The chief was doubtful about granting the privilege until Baker played for him, when he immediately granted the request.

The musician earned enough from passersby to complete musical studies abroad and will give his first recital before a select audience of highest critics here in October.

AMUSEMENTS

Is a Thrilling Picture

Those who enjoy a mystery, love and thrill, in good measure, will be well pleased with the Paramount Picture "The Law and the Woman", which was shown with great success at the Princess Theatre last night and which will be seen again today. Betty Compson is the star and Penrhyn Stanlaw was the producer.

In the role of Margaret Rolfe, Miss Compson has one of the most effective emotional parts of her screen career, portraying a courageous and faithful wife who saves her husband from the electric chair by inducing the real criminal, a woman, to confess to a murder, she rises to high dramatic rights.

The picture was produced with the wealth of detail, handsome settings, and splendid acts that is always found in a Paramount picture. Among those in the supporting cast are William T. Carleton, Casson Ferguson and Cleo Ridgely.

Is a Splendid Production

The splendid production of "Arizona", made by Douglas Fairbanks for Arteroft, which is attracting large audiences to the Mystic theatre, is in every respect a most notable picture production. Today will be the last showing here. It is a somewhat different Fairbanks story but as a dashing cavalry lieutenant, Mr. Fairbanks does some startling riding feats and other athletic stunts which render his portrayal most enjoyable. Efficient support is given by Marjorie Daw, Kathleen Kirkham, Theodore Roberts, Frank Campeau, Kate Price, Raymond Hatton and others.

clock at night. The power will be turned on in the morning at 5:15.

Towns and farm homes will also suffer on account of the light and power being turned off, and several small industries will be forced to close a portion of the time, where they depend upon electricity from the traction line.

Glenwood, Arlington, Homer, Manilla and Milroy are furnished light and power in this county by the traction line.

The freight service will be continued, but a change of schedule was adopted. The freight for Connersville will leave Rushville in the morning at 5:30, and for Indianapolis at 8:50 in the morning. The freight will arrive here from Indianapolis at about six o'clock, leaving that city at 4:45 in the afternoon.

The live stock trains will leave on each division beginning at 5:30 in the morning and 5:30 in the evening

An Attractive City

Economy is a good thing in municipal affairs, but you can carry it too far. Many public officials say that beauty is a luxury and it can't be afforded. Yet people who go on that theory in handling their own places are not apt to see their real estate advance in value much. It is the same in developing a city.

It has become a settled policy in many advancing towns, to try to persuade every householder to plant shrubs and trees and give each home a restful setting of foliage. Trees are planted when streets are laid out so that when houses are built the neighborhood seems homelike.

If a town will carry out such a policy for a period of years, it will acquire a charm far more attractive than costly edifices. It would gain a reputation as a home of progressive and refined people, who have travelled enough to know what a fine modern town looks like. Almost anyone would pay a premium to live in a place like that.

Quite a discussion is springing up as to who is our richest man. Some hand the palm to John D., while others claim that Henry Ford is entitled to the blue ribbon.

One enterprising writer suggests that the question be settled by reference to their tax receipts. But that would only serve to increase the doubt. Tax receipts are very deceptive and misleading.

There is, however, one way in which a solution to the problem could be found. Let them emulate Andrew Carnegie and give away their wealth.

Don't be too hasty in condemning the fellow whose conscience troubles him. Possibly he is to be admired.

Wherever there is a normal mind there is supposed to be a conscience. But many of them do not function. Some, apparently, have even ceased to exist.

A conscience is a troublesome thing when it is in good working order. It is forever interfering with some long cherished plan or pet project. When we want to lull it to sleep it insists upon remaining wide awake.

Hence we kick it, and cuff it, and trample upon it until it becomes blunted and calloused from incessant abuse.

And then it drops and fades away, and we, being emancipated, proceed to prosper in the world of material affairs.

SPORT WORLD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, July 25—Jack McAuliffe, the old retired, undefeated lightweight champion, says that Benny Leonard was rusty more than anything else in his fight with Jack Britton.

His judgment of distance was poor and his foot work was terrible. He was just a good gymnasium boxer against Britton," he said. After the showing he made in beating Rocky Kansas, McAuliffe can't see where Lew Tendler is going to have a chance to win the championship when the two meet in Jersey City.

Leonard knows too much for Tendler, in McAuliffe's opinion. "The champ has fought left handers before and he knows how to meet their game," he said.

The champion ought to be in fine shape for Tendler as he trained himself on two hard fights and thirty minutes actual work in the ring is better than thirty days in a stuffy New York gym.

Cleveland, facing the necessity of building a new ball club next season, could find as much use for those Baltimore stars as any club in the majors.

Pat McDonald, who is now police sergeant in the New York traffic section, told the writer some time ago that he had retired for good. "Don't believe that old bird," one of his copper friends said later.

"He's got a ring in his back yard and he's working every night and morning with the weights."

Walter McCredie, late deposed manager of the Seattle club, asks for stimulants every time he thinks of the $175,000 that the San Francisco club got for Willie Kamm and Jimmy O'Connell.

McCredie sent up to the majors Roger Peckinpaugh, Dave Bauercroft, Corvleskie, Vean Gregg, Tom Seaton, Charley Hollocher and Bill Steen and he didn't get $25,000 for the bunch.

Three old familiar faces probably will be missing when the 1924 Olympic teams go to Paris. Pat MacDonaid, Mat McGrath and Paddy Ryan look to have a small chance of beating Babe Hartranft, Houser, Anderson and Hill, the sensational young weight men.

Decision of Jim Dunn, Baltimore boss, to sell three of his star ball players this winter, will cause a mad scramble of the majors to the auction block.

The Giants offered $150,000 for two of them last winter and were turned down. Such a price leaves about three clubs in the running—the Giants, the Yanks and the Cubs.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia wouldn't even pay enough to look at them. Commissioner Landis would do the game some real good if he would suggest that the deal be completed.

Baltimore is now making the third runaway race for the International League pennant, because Jack Dunn was able to gather and keep a team of almost major league caliber.

Dunn refused to sell or trade and he was finally forced into breaking up his combination by the threat of the other clubs to bring back the draft over his veto.

Several big-time pilots at the last winter meetings said all Dunn's men were vastly overrated and that they would not be able to make the grade when they tried the big stuff.

Dunn might get a terrible shock when he goes to sell his stars.

The Swing Big Thing in Golf

By ALEC HERD
(Written for United Press)
CHAPTER V.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—In this fifth number of his series on correct golf, the author continues dealing with the proper swing.—The United Press New York.

If you are driving a stake in the ground and the stake is held in position by another man, the thoughts of the striker may be centered on the other fellow's hand, which he knows he must not hit. To avoid this calamity, he does not look at the hand but at the top of the stake, which he desires to hit. The same thing applies in the golf stroke.

Another essential is to get the proper sweep or swing. Do not lift the club in the back swing; sweep it along the ground for about a foot, the left arm swaying with it. Then the wrists start to turn. If you keep the left arm pretty straight at the beginning of the back swing, it will help to get the proper action.

A great point is to get the wrists in proper position at the top of the swing. Another reason why players hit the ground behind the ball is because they slightly drop the right shoulder or knuckle the right knee. The mistake is also caused by stiffening or checking the wrists at the moment of impact. Keep the wrists loose; do not cramp or put the brake on them, as it were, and it will help to stop your hitting the ground behind the ball.

Slicing is another very common mistake. In my opinion, faults of this kind may frequently be cured by going to the opposite extreme. If the player develops a slice, for example, it is not a bad plan to endeavor to obtain a pull on the ball. As a rule, slicing is caused by the player not being natural. With the beginner, it is the result of stiffening the wrists and forearm muscles. This never allows the clubhead to come through properly.

The best way to cure a slice is to observe the rule I laid down in regard to topping—keep the left arm fairly stiff and sweep the club back at the start of the swing instead of lifting it. Then do not allow the body to fall back or away from ball. On the upward swing do not keep the left knee too rigid, as this causes you to push at the ball. Then you cannot recover your balance or get the body back into the proper position to get the ball away with a straight club face on the follow through. The hands get in front of the clubhead, and the body does not pivot properly. The body pivot is very important, but you must not forget that the body must work in complete unison—body, wrists, and head as a kind of brotherhood who must never be allowed to fall out with one another. The hips must turn slightly, but do not overdo the hip turning, or you will lose control over the pivot, which is just as fatal as not pivoting at all.

Above all give the clubhead a chance. Allow it to go through after the ball, and you will do much to minimize the risk of slicing.

(END CHAPTER V.)

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples Natural Gas Company of Rush County will be held at the office of said company No. 305 North Main street in Rushville Indiana on Monday August 7th 1922 at 1:30 o'clock P. A Full Measure of Service

THE First Quarterly Summary of Refinery Statistics issued by the Bureau of Mines (1922) states that 25% more gasoline was purchased by consumers in January, February and March, 1922, than in the corresponding period of 1921. Many well-informed marketers are predicting that there will be an insufficient supply of gasoline this summer in the Middle West.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has increased its facilities so largely that it feels safe in stating that it will be able to render to the people of the 10 states it serves that degree of service which the public has come to expect from this organization.

The manufacturing facilities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have a capacity of more than one billion gallons of gasoline per year. These facilities are being operated 24 hours every day that patrons may be certain of securing their requirements of petroleum products as they need them.

When the flood tide of demand occurs, car owners will realize that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has anticipated their needs fully and completely.

When a motorist fills his tank at a convenient service station in some remote corner of the Middle West, he may never stop to consider the vast and complicated machinery needful to put that gasoline where he wants it at the moment he needs it most. But he will appreciate that it is there.

He may never know that serving him involves experienced executives of trained initiative and resourcefulness; enormous expenditures for labor and raw material; great, modern refineries continuously operated; immense storage facilities; a magnificent distribution system; and the uniform effort of an organization of 25,000 men and women. All this is back of that small quantity of Red Crown gasoline which every summer tourist confidently expects to purchase and surely finds at all points in the territory served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

This the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) considers genuine service.

PAINS SO BAD WOULD GO TO BED

Two Women Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Their Suffering

Iron Mountain, Mich.—"I had terrible pains every month and at times had to go to bed on account of them. I saw your advertisement and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with very good results. I can work all day long now at my sick time. You may use these facts as a testimonial and I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. A. H. GARLAND, 218 E. Brown St., Iron Mountain, Michigan.

Xenia, Ohio.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of my abdomen that I could not lie quietly in bed. I suffered for about five years that way and I was not regular either. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, so I decided to try it. It surely has helped me a lot, as I have no pains now and am regular and feeling fine."—Mrs. MARY DALE, Route 7, Xenia, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments. It is especially adapted to relieve women. If you suffer as did Mrs. Garland or Mrs. Dale, you should give this well-known medicine a thorough trial.

Why Experiment?

Women are learning every day that it is useless to bake successfully at home. So much time is wasted—and money, too! The results are too uncertain—it really isn't worth the time and labor.

At a much smaller cost we give you good pastry, cakes and many popular kinds of bread—and we give you the advantages of our years of specialized experience.

Too Much Monkey Talk About Ape-ism Causes A Church Feud

Bitterest Theological Feud Launched in New York, and One Minister Says The Name of The St. John Cathedral Should be Changed to a "Church For The Descendants of The Apes".

(By United Press)
New York, July 25—Ape-ism split the ranks of New York ministers today.

The opening gun in what promises to be the bitterest theological feud of a decade was fired yesterday from half a dozen opposing pulpits.

Demand that the name of the cathedral of St. John be changed to "a church for the descendants of the apes," was made in a bitter attack in a sermon upon the Very Rev. Howard Chandler Robbins, dean of the St. John of the Divine, by Dr. George McPherson, a noted Baptist evangelist.

Along with Dean Robbins, Harry Emerson Fosdick, a Baptist professor of the Union Theological Seminary, came in for a share of Dr. McPherson's attention. McPherson demanded that both resign their positions.

"The trail of these men," declared McPherson, "leads not to Bethlehem's manger but to the wilderness." Those who profess beastly ancestry, should form churches of their own. Those who claim to bear the mark of the beast cannot be in full fellowship with those who know they are made in the image of God.

"If these botanical, baboon boosters to whom Dean Robbins and Dr. Fosdick belong are consistent they will see that they form new churches with the sign over the door, 'Only those permitted to worship here who believe themselves to be of beastly origin.'"

From the Calvary Baptist church sector, Dr. John Roach Stratton opened a heavy fire of verbal high explosive upon those "intellectual rationalists and modernists," who failed to take the Bible literally.

Rev. Stratton singles Dr. Birney Smith of the Baptist Divinity school of the University of Chicago, Samuel Kane Batten of the Baptist church and Dr. W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown university, for special attention.

Stratton charged that Smith was
